2) Read Rory's blog post about an incident he had in the sea and CIRCLE the correct option. (Leer el blog de Rory sobre un incidente en el mar y HACER UN CÍRCULO a la opción correcta)

I live in a small town by the sea in Scotland and I often go sailing with my dad at the weekend. When he was a boy, he loved exploring the coastline and discovering new places in his boat. Once, when he was sailing, he even found an amazing hidden cave.

The sea around the Scottish coast is freezing and can be very dangerous – you can't survive for long in such cold water. When you go sailing, you need a special life jacket that helps you keep afloat if you fall in the water. Last weekend, while we were sailing, I had a lucky escape. I was pulling up the sail, when I nearly fell off the boat into the sea. I bruised my arm, but other than that, I was fine. At home, when I was hanging up my clothes, I discovered a hole in my life jacket. That means that the jacket was useless! The next morning, Dad drove me into town and bought me an expensive new one.

GLOSSARY:
